Letter of Recommendation for Greg Stubbs

I had the pleasure of working with Greg at Diesel Games for a little under a year. I supervised his work on the Deprived project, a realistic first person “survival horror” technology demo made to showcase the Astoundsound technology.

Mr. Stubbs was a great addition to our team. We needed someone exclusively to make props for the environments, and Greg was a perfect fit for this role. He was very efficient and passionate about the tasks he was assigned, and was an immense help to us in completing the project on time.

Greg took direction and critique better than any artist I have ever worked with. All of my suggestions and criticisms were taken with great positivity, and changes were made exactly how I had hoped they would. He picked up on many techniques that elevated his skills as an artist very quickly, and was easily able to adapt his style to the aesthetic direction of the project. His props were beautiful, detailed additions to the world we were trying to create.

Greg was a very relaxed, easy-going guy to work with, and his attitude was always helpful and professional. I would be more than happy to work with him again on future projects in a heartbeat. I recommend Greg Stubbs in the highest regard for all future art opportunities.

Sincerely,
